

ACTIVITY 3 - WATERWATCHING IN THE WETLANDS

Streams ... Wetlands and waterfalls

The Grampians catchment supplies the largest gravity-fed water system in world. Three rivers begin their journey in the Grampians National Park (Gariwerd) and provide water for 51 towns and 22,000 farm dams.

Water is essential for all life and in the Brambuk wetlands you can discover how the presence or absence of certain aquatic organisms reveals the quality of the water.
